FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ENZIAN PRESENTS “13 Films and Cocktails of Halloween” THROUGHOUT OCTOBER

Orlando, FL (September 26, 2018) – Enzian is showcasing a series of scary movies and events so you can celebrate Halloween all month long. The lineup features programs for all ages and includes a free outdoor screening, parties, midnight films, and cult classics. Eden Bar will also be featuring 13 Cocktails of Halloween available all October, as well as hosting a free Halloween party on October 27th.

Matthew Curtis, Programming Director of Enzian, remarked, “This year’s incredible lineup for ‘13 Films of Halloween’ at Enzian could not be more fun! With legendary horror films and iconic cult classics spanning 90 years of spooky cinema (1922 – 2012), audiences will be able to see everything from a gorgeous new restoration of F.W. Murnau’s original NOSFERATU to Tim Burton’s magnificent stop-motion animated FRANKENWEENIE. A who’s who of great horror film directors will be represented, including George A. Romero, Stuart Gordon, Frank Henenlotter, John Carpenter, and Wes Craven, not to mention a tribute to the late Margot Kidder with a screening of Brian De Palma’s chilling SISTERS from 1972, and a rare 35mm print of 1958’s HORROR OF DRACULA starring the immortal Christopher Lee.”

Operations Manager, Veronica Jaramillo, added, “Each year, Eden Bar comes up with the most innovative and delicious cocktail recipes to help make our 13 Films of Halloween lineup a fun and interactive experience all month long!”

After transferring to a Los Angeles high school, Sarah (Robin Tunney) finds that her telekinetic gift appeals to a group of three wannabe witches, who happen to be seeking a fourth member for their rituals. Bonnie (Neve Campbell), Rochelle (Rachel True) and Nancy (Fairuza Balk), like Sarah herself, all have troubled backgrounds, which combined with their nascent powers lead to dangerous consequences. When a minor spell causes a fellow student to lose her hair, the girls grow power-mad.

Margot Kidder Tribute Film

Inquisitive journalist Grace Collier (Jennifer Salt) is horrified when she witnesses her neighbor, fashion model Danielle Breton (Margot Kidder), violently murder a man. Panicking, she calls the police. But when the detective arrives at the scene and finds nothing amiss, Grace is forced to take matters into her own hands. Her first move is to recruit private investigator Joseph Larch (Charles Durning), who helps her to uncover a secret about Danielle's past that has them both seeing double.

USA, 1972, 93 minutes, Rated R, Directed by Brian De Palma

Cult Classics: Frankenhooker

Tuesday, October 9th at 9:30PM

In this horror comedy, the gruesome death of his girlfriend Elizabeth (Patty Mullen) in a lawn mower accident inspires hobby scientist Jeff Franken (James Lorinz) to re-assemble her using Elizabeth's head and a variety of body parts he has "harvested" from a group of attractive New York City prostitutes. A convenient thunderstorm gets the experiment underway as "Frankenhooker" is set to roam the streets of New York.

USA, 1990, 85 minutes, Rated R, Directed by Frank Henenlotter

Popcorn Flicks in the Park: The Pit and the Pendulum

Thursday, October 11th at 8PM | FREE in Central Park!

This film is a part of our Popcorn Flicks series, which takes place in Central Park, Winter Park once a month and it's FREE and open to the public!

Elizabeth Barnard Medina (Barbara Steele) has died in the prime of life, and her brother, Francis (John Kerr), wants to know why. Elizabeth's husband, Nicholas (Vincent Price), and her doctor offer differing explanations, but when Francis learns that Nicholas' mother may have been buried alive, he begins to wonder if his sister met the same fate. And when he comes to believe that Elizabeth's spirit wanders about Nicholas' castle, Francis investigates — and is stunned by what he finds.

USA, 1961, 80 minutes, Not Rated, Directed by Roger Corman

Saturday Matinee Classics: Nosferatu

Saturday, October 13th at 12PM

A cornerstone of the horror film, F.W. Murnau's NOSFERATU: A SYMPHONY OF HORROR is resurrected in an HD edition mastered from the acclaimed 35mm restoration by the Friedrich-Wilhelm-Murnau-Stiftung. Backed by an orchestral performance of Hans Erdmann's 1922 score, this edition offers unprecedented visual clarity and historical faithfulness to the original release version.

An unauthorized adaptation of Bram Stoker's Dracula, NOSFERATU remains to many viewers the most unsettling vampire film ever made, and its bald, spidery vampire, personified by the diabolical Max Schreck, continues to spawn imitations in the realm of contemporary cinema.

Germany, 1922, 94 minutes, Silent with English Intertitles, Directed by F. W. Murnau

Midnight Movies: Creepshow

Saturday, October 13th at 11:59PM

A compendium of five short but terrifying tales contained within a single full-length feature, this film conjures scares from traditional bogeymen and portents of doom. In one story, a monster escapes from its holding cell. Another focuses on a husband (Leslie Nielsen) with a creative way of getting back at his cheating wife. Other stories concern a rural man (Stephen King) and a visitor from outer space, and a homeowner (E.G. Marshall) with huge bug problems and a boozing corpse.

USA, 1982, 120 minutes, Rated R, Directed by George A. Romero

Music Mondays: The Rocky Horror Picture Show

Monday, October 15th at 9:30PM

In Partnership with Park Ave CDs and WPRK

In this cult classic, sweethearts Brad (Barry Bostwick) and Janet (Susan Sarandon), stuck with a flat tire during a storm, discover the eerie mansion of Dr. Frank-N-Furter (Tim Curry), a transvestite scientist. As their innocence is lost, Brad and Janet meet a houseful of wild characters, including a rocking biker (Meat Loaf) and a creepy butler (Richard O'Brien). Through elaborate dances and rock songs, Frank-N-Furter unveils his latest creation: a muscular man named "Rocky."

UK | USA, 1975, 100 minutes, Rated R, Directed by Jim Sharman

After a serious car crash, novelist Paul Sheldon (James Caan) is rescued by former nurse Annie Wilkes (Kathy Bates), who claims to be his biggest fan. Annie brings him to her remote cabin to recover, where her obsession takes a dark turn when she discovers Sheldon is killing off her favorite character from his novels. As Sheldon devises plans for escape, Annie grows increasingly controlling, even violent, as she forces the author to shape his writing to suit her twisted fantasies.

Midnight Movies: Re-Animator

Saturday, October 20th at 11:59PM

H.P. Lovecraft and Lucio Fulci did not team up to make the most amazing gore-sex grotesquerie of 1985 — but thanks to RE-ANIMATOR, they didn't have to. Director Stuart Gordon and producer Brian Yuzna's joint debut feature, this epochal, awe-inspiring amalgam of FRANKENSTEIN, THE BEYOND, and REVENGE OF THE NERDS is where science meets chaos to produce an hyperactive overdose of gruesome insanity.

Herbert West (Jeffrey Combs) is a new Miskatonic University student who also moonlights as a mad scientist, intent on perfecting a serum that "re-animates" corpses. Soon, everyone wants a piece of the action, including an evil professor and his army of slime-covered deadites. With berserker theatrics, career-defining roles from horror icons Combs and Barbara Crampton, and a scene of two adults chasing an undead cat in a basement, RE-ANIMATOR isn't just a masterpiece of the horror genre — it's a masterpiece of life.

USA, 1985, 105 minutes, Rated R, Directed by Stuart Gordon

Young Victor Frankenstein (Charlie Tahan) is a science nerd and outsider at school, but he does have one good friend: his dog, Sparky. But then, tragedy strikes, and Sparky shuffles off this mortal coil. Victor is heartbroken, but his science teacher (Martin Landau) gives him an idea of how to jolt old Sparky back to life. The experiment is successful, and all goes well, until Victor's fellow students steal his secret and use it to resurrect other dead animals — with monstrous consequences.

Tuesday, October 23rd at 9:30PM

In remote Antarctica, a group of American research scientists are disturbed at their base camp by a helicopter shooting at a sled dog. When they take in the dog, it brutally attacks both human beings and canines in the camp and they discover that the beast can assume the shape of its victims. A resourceful helicopter pilot (Kurt Russell) and the camp doctor (Richard Dysart) lead the camp crew in a desperate, gory battle against the vicious creature before it picks them all off, one by one.

New 4K Restoration!

From the mind of Wes Craven, THE HILLS HAVE EYES stands alongside the likes of TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE and NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD as one of the defining moments in American indie horror.

Taking a detour whilst en route to L.A., the Carter family is in deep shit when their campervan breaks down in the middle of the desert and they find themselves at the mercy monstrous cannibals lurking in the surrounding hills. With their lives under threat, the Carters are forced to fight back by any means necessary.

Horror master Craven achieved critical and commercial success with the likes of A NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET and SCREAM — but for many genre fans, the director's seminal '77 effort remains his masterpiece.

USA, 1977, 89 minutes, Rated R, Directed by Wes Craven

Cult Classics: Horror of Dracula

Tuesday, October 30th at 9:30PM

On a search for his missing friend Jonathan Harker (John Van Eyssen), vampire hunter Dr. Van Helsing (Peter Cushing) is led to Count Dracula's (Christopher Lee) castle. Upon arriving, Van Helsing finds an undead Harker in Dracula's crypt and discovers that the count's next target is Harker's ailing fiancée, Lucy Holmwood (Carol Marsh). With the help of her brother, Arthur (Michael Gough), Van Helsing struggles to protect Lucy and put an end to Count Dracula's parasitic reign of terror.

UK, 1958, 82 minutes, Not Rated, Directed by Terence Fisher
